Journey to Calacatta

There is pure perfection written in stone in the mountains of Northern Italy. There, battling high altitudes and elements, is where you'll find our inspiration: Calacatta Marble. It is the rarest and most coveted surface on Earth with patterns resembling the clean, fresh air of the mountain range combined with the profound impact made over time. Coveted and loved by Michelangelo. Sought by royalty and dignitaries. And now, it's the latest muse for our engineered Quartz Collection. With deep veining and a look and feel that's modern and timeless, Wilsonart is now offering the luxury and rare look of Calacatta with the practical approachability, durability, cleanability, and everyday function of Wilsonart.

It's rare beauty. Made for all.

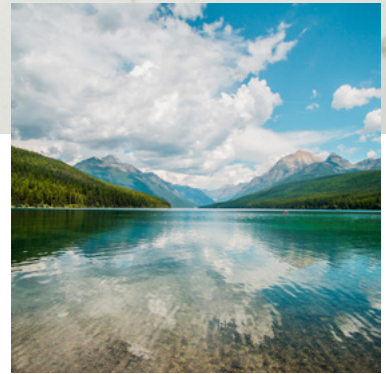

Calacatta Serchio

The Serchio River can be found dancing elegantly in mountain elevation through Tuscany. The fresh, cool flowing water is the calming inspiration for our Calacatta Serchio design. Light and subtle in tones. Bold and powerful in its simplicity. Perfect for experiencing breathtaking moments. Every day.

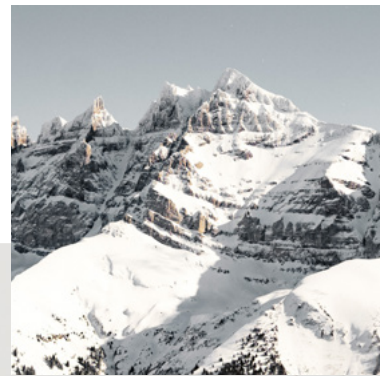

Calacatta Aquilea

The ancient Roman city of Aquilea inspires this classical design. With touches of aged feel and historic architecture, backdropped by awe-inspiring mountain ranges, our Calacatta Aquilea design embodies elegance with a timeless look full of movement and interest. It's artwork. That feels right at home.

Calacatta Volegno

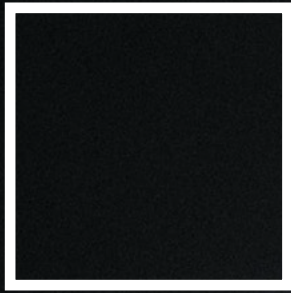

Picture a quiet village nestled in the mountains of Tuscany: every view is a classic painting. Every sound feels like music. Every moment is an escape. That's the feeling of Calacatta Volegno. With deep, intricate patterning, its markings convey millennia passing, as it provides the calming sensation of time standing still.

Calacatta Pastino

There are just 17 people who live in Pastino, Italy. It's quiet. Peaceful. Yet, given its locale, it's also unique. Elegant. Captivating. It is the inspiration for our Calacatta Pastino design. With wide, interesting, subtle patterns contrasted with geologic lines, it is more than a surface. It is an escape.
